

GOD’S WORDS FOR TODAY (Jn.14:6-14)

The Holy Gospel according to St. John

Jesus said to him, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father, but by me. If you had known me, you would have known my Father also; henceforth you know him and have seen him." Philip said to him, "Lord, show us the Father, and we shall be satisfied." Jesus said to him, "Have I been with you so long, and yet you do not know me, Philip? He who has seen me has seen the Father; how can you say, 'Show us the Father'? Do you not believe that I am in the Father and the Father in me? The words that I say to you I do not speak on my own authority; but the Father who dwells in me does his works. Believe me that I am in the Father and the Father in me; or else believe me for the sake of the works themselves. "Truly, truly, I say to you, he who believes in me will also do the works that I do; and greater works than these will he do, because I go to the Father. Whatever you ask in my name, I will do it, that the Father may be glorified in the Son; if you ask anything in my name, I will do it."

REFLECTION:

Jesus makes it possible for each of us to personally know God as our Father. To see Jesus is to see what God is like. In Jesus we see the perfect love of God - a God who cares intensely and who yearns over men and women, loving them to the point of laying down his life for them upon the Cross. Jesus is the revelation of God - a God who loves us unconditionally - without reservation, unselfishly - for our sake and not his, and perfectly - without neglecting or forgetting us even for a brief moment. Jesus promises that God the Father will hear our prayers when we pray in his name. Do you pray to your Father in heaven with joy and confidence in his love and care for you?

PRAYER:

Lord Jesus, you fill us with the joy of your saving presence, show me the Father that I may know and glorify him always. Amen.

FROM THE OVCAD – INSTITUTIONAL HEALTH SERVICES:

What Are the Signs of High Blood Pressure?

People can have high blood pressure for years and not have any signs. In rare cases, severe high blood pressure can cause problems like these:

- headaches
- vision changes
- dizziness
- nosebleeds
- nausea (feeling sick)

A person with high blood pressure who has any of these problems should see a doctor right away.

How Do Doctors Measure Blood Pressure?

Blood pressure readings are fast and painless. Blood pressure is measured using an instrument called a sphygmomanometer. This device has an inflatable cuff that a doctor or nurse wraps around your arm. As the cuff inflates, it squeezes an artery, stopping the blood flow for a moment. As the cuff deflates and the next heartbeat goes through the artery, the doctor or nurse measures the pressure. He or she also measures the pressure at its lowest point between heartbeats.

Automated devices also measure blood pressure, but are not always as accurate.

When doctors tell people their blood pressure, they use two numbers; for example, 120/80 ("120 over 80"). The first number is the systolic pressure. This is the pressure at the peak of each heartbeat. The second number is the diastolic pressure. This is the pressure when the heart rests between beats.

What Is Hypertension?

For adults (people 18 and older), blood pressure that's lower than 120 over 80 is normal. High blood pressure is 140 over 90 or higher. If someone's systolic pressure is 120 to 139, or if their diastolic pressure is 80 to 89, it's called elevated blood pressure or prehypertension.

It's a little different for kids and teens: People younger than 18 have hypertension if 95% of kids or teens of the same age, height, and gender have lower blood pressure. Blood pressure between 90% and 95% of the normal range is considered prehypertension.

If a doctor or nurse thinks your blood pressure is too high, he or she will take at least three readings at different times before calling it hypertension. Teens with prehypertension or hypertension are more likely to have high blood pressure as adults.
